

Colorful Patterns

By Carlin Praytor

My fabric is very colorful and creative. I used many different colors. I used a crimson red, olive green, cerulean blue, and beautiful shades of purple. My fabric also has many shapes, too. It has circles on the top and bottom, squares, and hexagons in the middle (in the rectangle). There are also small diamonds in the diagonal lines. This picture reminds me of a box (in the middle) being held up by springs (the circles and diagonal lines on the top and bottom). My fabric is very creative.

Ruby Red Square

By Max Johnston

The ruby red square with sapphires and polka dots is great. If you want to get noticed, just sew this to your jacket or dress, and you will get pointed out as if you were a famous movie star. This product is also good for dates. That's why it is the best product ever.

Fabric Square

By Daniel Kawashima

This is my fabric design with shapes and patterns. My design is in the shape of a square, with diagonal lines going both ways. The diagonal lines make triangles. I put squares on the right and left sides, colored evenly with yellow and green. On the vertically-oriented area, I put hexagons and rectangles on it. The hexagons are colored red, bluish-green. The rectangles have a silver line in the middle, and orange surrounding them. On the other side, the design switches. Also, for the background, the colors are purple and blue. This is my fabric design.

My Pattern, "Blue Seas"

By Lindsay Stollman

My pattern uses a variety of blues, greens, and shapes. I named by pattern Blue Seas because the colors remind me of the sea. The colors are royal blue, light blue, pastel green, blue-green, and aquamarine. Its shapes are trapezoids, rectangles, hexagons, triangles, and diagonal line. The hexagons represent shells, the trapezoids represent boats, the triangles represent fish, and the rectangles represent beach towels. I hope my patter makes you think of seas, too.

My Little House

By Alyssa Chang

My fabric design is used with colors that are coffee, raven, aquamarine, peach, emerald, scarlet, pearl, and gold. The shapes it has are triangles, squares, rectangles, ovals, and a circle. The title of my fabric sample is "My Little House." It has a picture of a house, the sun, and a little girl. The little girl has shiny, blond hair, a pair of red boots, and an orange dress with a flower on it. The thing I love about my picture is that I like the picture better with shapes on it. The second best thing I love about my picture is that it looks very clear and creative. "My Little House", is the best picture I have ever made in my whole entire life!

Fabric Square

By Emily Kimes

My fabric square is interesting. I used lots of different shapes to make it. I used lime, bright orange, and blue-green diagonal lines for it. There were lots of rectangles in all sorts of colors, including red-pink, green, baby-green, goldenrod, and baby pink. I used baby pink and baby green triangles. The rest was a mixture of blue and green, making an indescribable color. You would love my fabric square.

USA

By David Kaufman

My fabric has many different colors and shapes. The outline has a maze, and on the corners, there are squares. On the corners of the fabric are seen green and light-brown shapes that represent the USA in Iraq. The reason for this choice of hues is that they resemble army colors. The star is the symbol of the silver state, Nevada. The strange-colored star represents the five kinds of people who suffered. The bittersweet is when crops take crops and turn them into a beautiful farm. The light-yellow, golden circle stands for the sun.. The lavender stands for the women who can vote. Lastly, the apricot triangle resembles a rooftop. There are many different shapes and colors in this square fabric sample.

Fabric Sample

By Arisa Pongsiririt

This fabric represents a house. The pentagon is the house and the triangle is the rooftop. The triangle is needed so rain won't fall inside. The rectangle is a gold window which is needed so people can get fresh air and smell the flowers. The square has pillows that are important for staying cozy. The heart belongs to a human. Humans are important because they live in the house. They are the most important because they are living things. This house is delightful.

Buffalo Mask

By Sage Moloney

My designer fabric is titled, "The Buffalo mask." In the pattern there are chocolate-brown hexagons that are the eyes of the mask, as well as horns. These horns were originally rectangles that now have diagonal lines through them, becoming triangles. The nose is a violet-colored rectangle and the teeth are cherry-red triangles. Finally, the background is a soothing sky blue. These are the details in my "Buffalo Mask."

Shapes
By Ella Fox

"Shapes" is filled with wonderful shapes. It has hexagons, diagonal lines, triangles, and rectangles. Shapes also has wonderful colors such as olive green, ruby reds, water melon pinks, and navy blues. The ruby red is used for all of the rectangles, which form a face. The navy blue is used for the triangles, and the olive green, for the hexagons. The watermelon pink is used for the diagonal lines. "Shapes", with its variety of geometric forms and colors, is a cheerful fabric design.

Fabric Sample
By Eric Culhane

My designer fabric is made out of different shapes and colors that I combined. I drew a 5x5 inch square. I drew eight different triangles that cover the whole page. Then, I drew a square. I drew 8 hexagons around the square. Next, I colored the triangles azure blue. I colored the hexagons emerald green and the squares, violet.

My 5" by 5" Square
By Eli Weinstein

My 5" by 5" square is very interesting. The first things I describe are the swirls. My sitter said the swirls are "swirly." But, I think they look like "s"s. Besides swirls, I have a lot of triangles—so many I can't count them. I also have four diagonal lines in the top-left corner. I have a trapezoid in the middle of the bottom line of my 5" by 5" square. In addition, I have a pyramid of circles. That is my 5" by 5" square.

"Blue Strokes"

By Luigi Serracino

In my cloth I used a variety of blues. The hexagon is turquoise blue. The octagon is robin-egg blue. The triangle is periwinkle. The square is indigo. The rectangle is baby blue. The diagonal lines are cerulean. The background is blue-green. I picked the cloth to be blue because it's my favorite color. I picked the name, "Blue Strokes" because it's all blue. That's my blue cloth.]

"Bright Bricks"

By Molly Lumsden

Do you know what fabric design I made? Well, if you don't know, then I'll tell you! My fabric is called "Bright Bricks" and it is shaped like a wall of bricks, but is not the same color as bricks. Instead, the colors of the bricks are aquamarine, lime, light pink, and gold. The light pink and golden bricks are together, and the aquamarine and lime bricks are paired, too. These colors are very bright and colorful. The aquamarine and lime bricks are lying sideways, and the light pink and the light golden shaped bricks are oriented vertically. I like my design because it is sort of interesting to have the pattern of a brick wall! I just love my design!

"Fortune Telling"

By Lucas Sewelson

The piece of fabric I'm working on in my store called Sewelson Fabric, is called "Fortune Telling." The fabric shows a fortune-telling woman with rings in her ears. There are shapes like rectangles, circles, squares, triangles, diamonds, and ovals. There are dots and a stick-figure, too. The design is a bit abstract, but you can see the face of a fortune teller in the middle of the fabric. Stuck in one of the ears, is her crystal ball, showing a picture of a peach-colored stick figure. The violet diamond with a lemon-colored rhombus in the middle, is her turban. My colorful designs make people want to buy my fabrics.

Fabric Square Design

By Michael Litovskiy

Here's how I designed my fabric square. My square had shapes and some patterns. I used lots of colors such as bronze, titan, lavender, and emerald. Some shapes were big and some were small. I had lots of shapes like rectangles, triangles, and squares. That's my fabric square.

Fabric Square

By Nicole Seiler

My piece of fabric is very beautiful. My piece of fabric has many shapes: hexagons, parallelograms, and triangles. All three shapes have different colors like red, pink, and blue. Also, the background is a beautiful shade of purple. And that's what's so unique about my fabric.

A Star

By Alon Dasa

A star is in the sky. It is a star shape, too. It has pointy sides. It makes one it can heat someone.
