

Name _____

Project: The Great 2008 Presidential Poster

Due: Monday, October 6th, 2008

Your mission is to look through a variety of resources—newspapers, magazines, the Internet—to find pictures, articles, and other interesting information on the Presidential candidates, their parties, their views, and the election process in general.

► Find at least eight of the items on the list. (Good posters will “balance” the candidates.) After you collect an item, check it off in the check-off box. Once you have all the pictures and clippings, arrange them on the poster board you were given in a pleasing way. You will need to create a headline at the top which should read, “The 2008 Presidential Election.” This headline needs to be large, eye-catching, and bold.

► All gluing should be done neatly. There should be no corners curling up. You want your poster to win the “Presidential Seal of Approval”!

► The poster, this completed “Check-off List, AND the completed rubric are due Monday, October 6th, but feel free to turn it in early if you complete it before that time.

► Carefully review these instructions BEFORE you do the posters, WHILE you’re doing the poster, and AFTER you’ve finished the poster. Finally, grade your poster according to the rubric.

Item	Where It Was Found	Check <input type="checkbox"/> Off <input type="checkbox"/>
1. Photo of Barack Obama
2. Photo of John McCain
3. Quotation from a candidate
4. Article about Barack Obama
5. Article about John McCain
6. The printed name or logo of the Democratic Party
7. The printed name or logo of the Republican Party
8. A “Letter to the Editor” about the election.
9. An EDITORIAL about the election.
10. A cartoon about the election.
11. Items supporting Barack Obama
12. Items supporting John McCain
13. Articles about the election or ELECTORAL PROCESS
14. Any other appropriate information related to this election

Okay, I know someone will ask this: May you collect more than eight items? Yes.